THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS

100 Nashua St., Boston

Hull

June 22nd, 1934

Joseph A. Conway, Esq.,
Allerton, Mass.

Dear Sir:

After due consideration of the matter the Commissioners have voted that the Town of Hull be relieved from the payment of any sum over and above the $150,000 which the town has paid to the Commonwealth toward the cost of constructing a State highway in the towns of Hingham and Hull under the provisions of Chapter 119 of the Acts of 1931.

I am enclosing a copy of the opinion of Edward T. Simoneau, Assistant Attorney General, in this matter.

Yours truly,

Mary A. Riley
Secretary

R/W

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

DEPARTMENT OF THE

ATTORNEY GENERAL

BOSTON

Joseph E. Warner
Attorney General

March 27, 1934.

Hon. Frank E. Lyman,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Dear Mr. Lyman:

At a conference held at your office in January of the current year relative to the amount due the Commonwealth from the town of Hull, arising from the construction of a State highway in the towns of Hull and Hingham, as authorized by St. 1931, c. 119, you asked me to advise you whether the Department of Public Works was required to demand from and enforce payment by the town of Hull of a sum in excess of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, which sum that town was required to pay under the provisions of the aforementioned statute. Section 1 of that statute provides in part as follows:

"Said town of Hull shall pay into the treasury of the Commonwealth immediately upon the passage of this act the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and upon written order of said department the additional sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, all of which shall be available for expenditure by the said department for the purposes of this act without appropriation by the general court; and in addition thereto, the said department may expend for said purposes, from the amount appropriated for the construction of state highways in the current year, sums not exceeding, in aggregate, four hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars."

The provision relating to the initial payment by the town of Hull is mandatory and it may be said to be a condition precedent to the construction of the state highway.

The other provision does not positively require the payment of the additional sum of twenty-five thousand dollars save only as the department might require by written order. In other words, the payment of that additional sum was to be made only if the department, in its discretion, issued a written order therefor.

Very truly yours,

Edward T. Simoneau
Assistant Attorney General.

The Police Department shall consist of the Commissioner of Public Safety and such captains, lieutenants, sergeants and police officers as the work of the department may require and the Board of Selectmen shall appoint. The Selectmen shall have the right to increase or decrease the number of police officers as it deems necessary and may for particular cases appoint a police matron to assist the Commissioner of Public Safety.

Section 2. The Commissioner of Public Safety shall have authority, subject to the approval of the Board of Selectmen, to designate captains, lieutenants and sergeants from among the police officers appointed by the Board of Selectmen, and, subject to the approval of the Board of Selectmen shall fix the compensation of police officers and matrons. Such compensation, however, shall not exceed in the aggregate the amount appropriated by the Town.

Section 3. The Commissioner of Public Safety shall be the head of the police department and subject to the general supervision and control of the Board of Selectmen. He shall have control of the Department, its officers and members, constables and special police officers when in the service of the Department. He shall be responsible for the discipline and efficiency of the department and shall enforce the rules and regulations thereof.

Section 4. The Police Department shall be subject to all the rules and regulations and perform all the duties which are now or hereafter may be prescribed by the by-laws of the Town, by the Board of Selectmen or the rules and regulations of the Police Department as established by the Commissioner of Public Safety and approved by the Board of Selectmen and any member of the Department may be removed or suspended or otherwise disciplined at any time by the Commissioner of Public Safety, subject to the approval of the Board of Selectmen, except as otherwise provided by law.

Section 5. The Commissioner of Public Safety shall keep an account of all duties performed and of all absences from duty with the causes thereof. He shall take notice of all nuisances, defects, and obstructions in the streets and other public places in the Town and shall take all proper measures relative thereto. He shall cause proceedings to be instituted for the prosecution of violation of the laws and of the by-laws. He shall be a resident of the Town.

Section 6. The Commissioner of Public Safety shall have the care and custody of all property of the Town used by the Police Department and shall keep a full and complete record of the business of the department. He shall report monthly to the Board of Selectmen and shall, at such other times as the Board may require, report all doings of his department. He shall annually make a written report to be printed in the annual town report of the organization and condition of his department, the business and expenses thereof for the preceding year, together with such recommendations which he may think advisable for the management of the department.

Section 7. The Commissioner of Public Safety shall have the power to temporarily relieve from duty any of his subordinates for neglect or non-performance of duty or for any act contrary to good order and discipline or for violation of any of the rules or regulations of the Department. In each case he shall within forty-eight hours furnish the Board of Selectmen his reasons. The Selectmen shall forthwith determine the merits of the case, except as otherwise provided by law.

Section 8. It shall be the duty of each police officer patrolling a regular beat to immediately report all acts happening on the highway and public places patrolled by him involving injuries to persons or property. He shall make a careful investigation, securing the names and addresses of all witnesses thereto, and shall incorporate the same in his report to the Commissioner of Public Safety, who in turn shall make a full written report thereof to the Board of Selectmen and the Town Counsel.

Section 9. The Board of Selectmen shall appoint such number of special officers as it may deem necessary. They shall be subject to the authority of the Commissioner of Public Safety and shall devote so much of their time to the service of the Town as the Commissioner of Public Safety shall require. The amount of their compensation, if any, shall be fixed by the Selectmen.

Voted: That the following rules and regulations of the Hull Police Department be approved and adopted:

CONDUCT AND GENERAL PROVISIONS OF THE HULL POLICE DEPARTMENT

1. The Police must be quiet, steady and moral in their conduct, character and habits. In the performance of their duty, they must be attentive and zealous, control their tempers and exercise the utmost patience and discretion. They must at all times refrain from harsh, violent, coarse, obscene, and profane language; when asked a question they shall not answer in a short and careless manner, but with all possible attention and courtesy, at the same time avoiding as much as possible entering into unnecessary conversation. They shall when in uniform keep their numbers in sight and in a respectful manner give their names and numbers to all persons who inquire.

2. In arresting a person no more force shall be used than is absolutely necessary for the safe custody of the prisoner, or for overcoming any resistance which may be offered.

3. After they have been searched, prisoners shall be placed in the cells, no more force being used than is necessary to overcome resistance. Officers are strictly forbidden to argue with prisoners or to speak to them unnecessarily.

4. Officers must readily and punctually obey the orders and instructions of their superiors. If such orders appear to them unlawful or improper, they may appeal to the Commissioner of Public Safety, but any refusal to obey orders of their superiors or neglect in so doing will expose them to punishment.

5. Officers must be particularly careful not to interfere idly or unnecessarily. When required to act, they shall do so with energy and decision.

6. Coolness and firmness will be expected in all cases of every officer and in time of peril the police must be careful to act together and to protect each other in the restoration of peace. Whoever shrinks from danger or responsibility when his duty required him to meet it will be deemed unworthy of a place in the service.

7. They must on all occasions be civil and respectful, courteous and considerate toward their superiors and to each other, guarding themselves against envy, jealousy or other unfriendly feeling and refrain from all communications to the discredit of their associates, except to their superior officers whom it is their duty to inform of any neglect or disobedience of orders which may come to their knowledge. They shall not engage in any altercation, either physical or otherwise, with any other officer, whether on duty or not, or whether in uniform or not. They shall conform to the rules of the Department, observe the laws and by-laws of the Town, and perform their duty with zeal, courage, discretion and fidelity.

8. When passing or addressing any superior officer, they shall salute in the manner prescribed by the infantry drill regulations of the United States Army.

9. It is the duty of the subordinate to offer, first, the prescribed salute, and of the superior officer to return it.

10. The police when proceeding in a body to perform any duty or when returning, shall march in military order.

11. When the flag of the United States or of the Commonwealth is carried in parade or procession past a member of the force in uniform in a street or other public place, and at the moment of such passage, he shall stand at "attention" and salute in the manner in which he would salute a superior officer unless his urgent duties at the time make such act inadvisable.

12. During their hours of active duty, including time allowed for lunches or meals, and whether in uniform or not, the police shall not drink or personally use any intoxicating liquor or narcotic drug, or have in their possession such liquor or drug, unless by the permission of the Commissioner of Public Safety or for use as evidence in criminal cases.

13. The police shall not, except in the immediate performance of their duty, frequent or loiter about any place where intoxicating liquors are sold or furnished, nor any place where it is suspected that intoxicating liquors are illegally sold or furnished.

14. The police are required to speak the truth at all times and under all circumstances whether under oath or otherwise. Any who wilfully depart from the truth are unfit for the service, and on conviction will be dismissed. In cases in which they are not allowed by rules of the service to divulge facts within their knowledge they will refuse to speak on the subject.

15. The police shall not endeavor to obtain admission improperly for themselves or others to theaters or other places of public amusement; nor shall they, or any other person connected with the Department, ask for a free pass to any place of amusement or upon railroads or steamboats.

16. They shall not communicate to any person any information which may enable persons to escape from arrest or punishment, or that may enable them to dispose of, or secrete any goods, or other valuable things, stolen, or otherwise unlawfully obtained.

17. They shall not communicate any information regarding any orders which they may have received except with the permission of the Commissioner of Public Safety.

18. No written communication with reference to police business shall be made by any police officer to any other person, or any other police department, except by authority of the Commissioner of Public Safety.

19. The police shall not, directly or indirectly, be concerned in making any compromise or arrangement between thieves or other criminals and persons who have suffered by their acts, with a view of permitting the criminals to escape the penalties provided by law; any officer who has any part in such compromise or arrangements, or has any knowledge thereof and fails to give information to the Commissioner of Public Safety, shall be subject to immediate dismissal.

20. No police officer shall apply for a warrant for an assault upon himself without first reporting the case to the Commissioner of Public Safety, and obtaining from him permission to make such application.

21. He shall not compound any offense committed against his person or property, or withdraw any complaint, without the consent of the Commissioner of Public Safety.

22. Every member of the force must at all times be neat in person; his uniform must be in a clean and presentable condition, his buttons, badge and metal trimmings kept bright, and his shoes clean. When on account of the weather, or causes arising from the discharge of duty, his clothes become soiled or disarranged, it shall be put in proper order as soon as circumstances permit.

23. Every officer on duty shall carry a copy of the town by-laws and of the rules and regulations of the police department as soon as they are furnished to him.

24. Members of the police force when in uniform, whether on duty or not are forbidden to ride in automobiles other than those owned by the Department, except when the transaction of specific police business requires such riding.

25. A member of the police force who, while in uniform, and in a public place, smokes a cigar, cigarette or pipe in such manner as to be noticeable shall be subject to complaint and punishment for conduct unbecoming to an officer.

26. When a member of the police force has occasion to call the attention of a citizen to the fact that he is violating a law, a town by-law or regulation which presumably is unknown to all persons, he should not do so by means of a question such as, "Don't you know what it is against the law?" He should inform the citizen civilly that his act is unlawful and if practicable should explain the reason. This without regard whether prosecution is to follow or not.

27. Except when necessary for the protection of life or property, or for the enforcement of law, or the rules and regulations of the Department or some other public body, or in use in the performance of official duty, no automobile or motorcycle of the department shall be operated or driven by a member of the force at a rate of speed greater than that allowed by law.

28. As by virtue of his office, an officer can act officially in criminal matters only, he shall not render assistance in any civil case whatever, except to prevent a breach of the peace, or to suppress a disturbance actually commenced; nor shall he serve any search warrant without permission of the Commissioner of Public Safety.

29. When an officer is on his route, he must not walk or talk with other officers or with any other person except on police business, and then only for such time as the business requires. He must especially avoid giving cause for gossip or scandal by conversing with women in the streets when he is in uniform whether on duty or not.

SERGEANT

1. The quality of the work done by sergeants is of great importance to the department and to himself. The sergeant is in close contact with the public and with the police officers. His failure or his success in dealings with the men under him and in seizing opportunities for effective police work determines largely the public opinion of the police force.

2. The sergeant shall have immediate charge of the patrolmen on the routes; shall instruct and assist them in their duties, and shall be responsible for the general appearance, good order and discipline. A sergeant should not be a military officer, but more especially should he not fall into the error of becoming too familiar with the men whom he commands. He has undertaken distinct duties of importance and his neglect of them is more likely to arouse contempt than to win the liking of the patrolmen. It is in the power of the sergeant to correct in the beginning a fault in the patrolman which if allowed to continue and to grow may lead to disgrace and discharge.

3. The proper place for a sergeant when on active duty is on the streets of the town. There he must remain unless called elsewhere for police purposes.

4. The sergeant shall inspect the men and see that they are properly uniformed and equipped. That they have with them keys to the police signal boxes. He shall also inspect the officer's revolvers once a week and report to the Commissioner of Public Safety as to their condition. The sergeant shall carefully note and impartially report to the officer in command at Headquarters the occasion of every patrolman's absence from his route or guilty of other neglect of discipline or duty. Failure to report shall be sufficient cause for suspension, reduction in rank or discharge from the service.

5. Every sergeant shall keep a memorandum book which shall be used solely for noting important matters having to do with the police department. He shall note therein all such matters arising and those which pertain to the patrolmen. He shall note all violations he observes of the rules and regulations of the laws and by-laws. When so requested by the Commissioner of Public Safety, the sergeant shall produce that book for inspection. Entries made in the book shall be so complete as to be readily understandable by others than the sergeant making them.

PATROLMEN

1. Every patrolman shall hold himself in readiness at all times to answer the calls and obey the orders of his superior officers.

2. He shall keep a record of his work with day and date in a book. He shall enter therein all matters of importance in all work in which he is engaged in his official capacity, whether at Court, or on his route, or elsewhere, and also any other matters of importance connected with the Police of the town which comes to his knowledge. He shall write the names of all persons reported missing on his route in his pocket diary. He shall report the fact immediately to the officer in charge at Police Headquarters.

3. He shall each day at such times as shall be appointed make report to the officer in charge at Police Headquarters of all that he has done and all important information which has come to his knowledge during the previous twenty-four hours or since his last report. He shall show his record book to the Commissioner of Public Safety if requested.

4. Any property which may come into his possession in his official capacity shall be carefully preserved, marked and delivered by him without delay to the Commissioner of Public Safety.

5. He shall not have in his possession without the knowledge and consent of the Commissioner of Public Safety a key to any premises upon or near his route.

6. He shall be present at all roll calls and attend at Police Headquarters at the time appointed.

7. If he be absent without leave, the matter shall be reported to the Commissioner of Public Safety.

8. Each patrolman going out on duty shall proceed to his post and relieve the officer whose tour of duty has expired. In case said officer is not at his post, the relieving officer shall report the fact to Police Headquarters. Every patrolman before leaving his post shall telephone to the station that he has been relieved.

9. Every patrolman shall confine his patrol within the limits of his route except in case of fire, arrest of a prisoner or other cause of necessary absence until the time assigned for the expiration of his tour of duty he is regularly relieved or unless sooner ordered elsewhere by a superior.

10. A patrolman who is obliged for police purposes to leave his route by going upon another route or by entering a building or other premises on his own route shall, upon his return, report to the officer in charge of the station the cause and the length of the absence, but this shall not apply to ordinary visits of inspection or investigation made on his own route in the proper performance of his duty. Should any officer consider it necessary to leave his route, be in a building or otherwise for any purpose other than police work, he shall first ask directly or by telephone the permission of the officer in charge of the station, giving his reasons and probable length of his absence and the place to which he intends to go. When permission is given he shall report at once upon his return to his route and should such report be not received within a reasonable time, the officer in charge of the station house shall ascertain the whereabouts of the absent officer. If conditions are such as to make it impracticable to ask permission in advance a patrolman may leave his route for such time as may be necessary, but immediately upon his return shall report to the officer in charge the cause and length of his absence. In all cases of absence, whether for police or other purposes, the officer in charge of the station house shall enter in his daily report (or journal) the time, the cause and the duration of the absence. When an officer is absent from his route in accordance with the provisions of this rule and for a proper purpose, no blame shall attach to him, but his absence contrary thereto, no excuse afterward given shall be accepted. This section shall not affect cases in which a patrolman requires to be relieved because of sickness or injury.

11. He must constantly patrol his route except for halts necessary for the proper performance of his duty. He must not sit down, lean against walls, posts, trees or stand alongside of automobiles, or conduct himself in any other respect other than a public official exposed to public observation and criticism and with important work to do.

12. A patrolman shall furnish such information and render such aid to all persons when requested as may be consistent with his duty.

13. He shall direct strangers and others when requested by the nearest and safest way to their places of destination and when necessary cause them to be accompanied by a police officer. He shall not leave his route for that purpose, but shall pass such person from his route to the next. If he hears a call for assistance, he shall proceed to render aid with all dispatch taking every practicable precaution for the protection of his route for this or any other purpose.

14. When any way becomes blocked by vehicles, he shall use his best efforts to aid the drivers in disentagling the same. When the stream of travel is continuous, he shall open the way for foot travelers wishing to cross, attending especially to children, women and aged persons.

15. When a disturbance occurs, he shall instantly proceed to the spot and use his best efforts to restore quiet. Patrolmen on duty at the station house when sent on a hurry call to quell a disturbance, riot or other trouble shall proceed as quickly as possible to the scene of disturbance, riot or other trouble and after taking action and thoroughly investigation the cause of the same shall return to the nearest police box and report the facts found upon arrival to the officer in charge of the station house. The officer in charge of the station house shall make a record of all such calls upon the daily record book stating the time of call, the name of the officer receiving the same, the names of the patrolmen responding and the result of the investigation.

16. A police officer shall examine any person whom he shall see walking abroad in the night and whom he shall have reason to suspect of any unlawful design. The police officer shall demand of such person his business abroad at such time and where he is going. (This authority must be exercised with great caution). He shall also note during the night all vehicles which in any manner excite suspicion.

17. In so far as he can, a police officer without intruding on the privacy of individuals shall note removals from or into the limits of his route and acquire such a knowledge of the inhabitants as shall enable him to recognize them. He shall make himself perfectly acquainted with all parts of his route and with the streets, thoroughfares and houses within it.

18. He shall strictly watch the conduct of all persons of known bad character fixing in his mind and noting in his private record such impressions as shall enable him to recognize them. He shall note and record their movements and the premises they enter, learn and record their names, residences and occupations ✓ and report to the Commissioner of Public Safety any useful information he may obtain.

19. He shall take particular notice of all places where he suspects intoxicating liquors are sold illegally and report the same to the Commissioner of Public Safety and also all suspected gambling houses, dancing places, places for the sale of lottery tickets and houses of ill fame and keep a list thereof in his book for reference and report the same to the Commissioner of Public Safety.

20. He shall note all street lamps out of repair, not lighted at proper times or extinguished too early or too late. All building erected or in process of erection contrary to law or any building defectively built or which has become unsafe or in which any noisome, dangerous or unwholesome trade is carried on; all nuisance and other matters affecting the safety and convenience of the public or the interest of the Town and shall make report thereof without delay to the Commissioner of Public Safety.

21. He shall while on his tour of duty examine all doors, gates and windows of buildings (especially dwellings and stores) to see that they are properly secured, except that he shall not be required to examine doors, gates and windows of stores when opened for regular business. If a patrolman finds a building improperly secured, the occupant, if any, shall be notified and a written report made to the Commissioner of Public Safety. If the building is unoccupied, the patrolman shall make an immediate investigation of the premises, make them secure and then make a full report by telephone to the station house not later than his next duty call of the facts discovered by him and as soon as possible make a written report to the Commissioner of Public Safety giving street and number of the building, name of the owner and time when the said premises were found open and time when said premises were properly secured. He shall take special notice of all vacant dwelling houses to prevent depredations, be vigilant to prevent fire or waste of water, call the attention of abutters to the state of sidewalks and roofs where by snow, ice or other causes they are rendered dangerous or when obstructed by fuel, boxes or other articles or with goods; take note of all ashes, garbage or other offensive matter thrown into the street or beach or when the street or beach is used for washing vehicles or improperly obstructed thereby. When the laws and by-laws, orders, rules and regulations for the government of such cases, upon notice given, are not forthwith obeyed, he shall ascertain the names of the parties offending and report the same for complaint and prosecution.

22. He shall see that the sidewalks are not obstructed by persons loitering thereon to the inconvenience of other travelers.

23. He shall send persons of the age of discretion and penniless and without homes to the police station. He shall take note of all cases of contagious disease or sudden death. He shall watch male and female night walkers and persons who improperly accost persons of the opposite sex upon the streets and shall do all in his power to protect female from insult and annoyance.

24. During their tour of duty police officers shall report by telephone any information of importance. Patrolmen must signal from all boxes on each route. If for any reason a patrolman cannot with due regard for his duty, signal from a box he shall report the fact and the reasons therefor to the Commissioner of Public Safety or to the police officer in charge of the station house from the next nearest police box.

25. Patrolmen will be held accountable to any injury to signal boxes on their routes during their tour of duty. They shall report any accidents to any boxes, wires or posts.

26. When an officer discovers that a murder, burglary, highway robbery, automobile theft or other serious offense has been committed and the person committing the offense has escaped, he shall immediately telephone from the nearest signal box full particulars of the crime with a description, if possible, of the perpetrator. The officer in charge of the station house shall at once inform the Commissioner of Public Safety and shall also notify all men by radio as well as the men when they signal for orders the details of the crime reported and the description, if any, of the perpetrator of the same. Numbers of stolen automobiles given to police officers shall be written by them on the memorandum pads in their book. Immediate apprehension of persons committing crime and speedy recovery of stolen automobiles are expected as a demonstration of efficiency on the part of the police department.

26. Officers driving police cars shall have their radio receiving set on at all times while they are in the car so that they may receive all messages transmitted by radio relative to crime committed in this town or in other towns. It will enable them to apprehend persons who have committed the crimes and make them more efficient police officers.

27. Every patrolman when going on duty shall be equipped with his police badge, his gun, club, handcuffs, twisters, police whistle and a key to the police signal box, a memorandum book and all other paraphanelia furnished him by the police department. Failure to carry any of the above articles may mean suspension or discharge from duty.

USE OF REVOLVERS AND CLUBS

1. The revolvers furnished to all members of the force are to be carried loaded when on duty. Each member will be held responsible for the perfect condition of the revolver furnished to him. He must see that it is clean, loaded and ready for use, and should it need repairs he must so report to the Commissioner of Public Safety. Extra cartridges will be furnished from time to time to members of the Police Department upon request to the Commissioner of Public Safety for the purpose of testing their police service revolvers or of replacing expended cartridges or cartridges likely to have become defective.

No ammunition of a kind other than used and supplied by the Department shall be used by any member of the department or held in his possession. Members of the police force shall familiarize themselves with the handling and work of their revolvers and they shall carry when on duty no revolver not of a pattern authorized by the Commissioner of Public Safety.

2. Clubs of established patterns will be furnished to all members of the force. Whenever a member of the force strikes a person with his club and whenever he discharges his revolver while acting as a police officer, except in caring for the weapon or practising with it, he shall at the end of his tour of duty so inform the Commissioner of Public Safety. He shall state the name of the persons concerned, the circumstances under which the club or revolver was used, the nature of the injury inflicted, if any, and the care given afterwards to the injured person.

3. The Commissioner of Public Safety will not hold to censor or other punishment a police officer who fires his revolver while in the performance of his duty for any of the following purposes:

a. To defend himself from death or serious injury.

b. To defend another person unlawfully attacked from death or serious injury;

c. To affect the arrest or to prevent the escape, when other means are insufficient, of a convicted felon or of a person who has committed a felony in the policeman's presence.

d. To kill a dangerous animal or to kill an animal so badly injured that humanity required its removal from further suffering.

e. To give an alarm or to call assistance for an important purpose when no other sufficient means can be used.

FIRES

1. When a police officer learns of the existence of a fire of a character as to require action by the fire department, he shall immediately ring an alarm from the nearest fire box. He shall then see that by himself or by another trustworthy person left at the box the firemen are properly directed. He shall note the time of the alarm and any other matter which seems important in connection therewith or with the fire itself.

2. The police at fires shall assist in all practical ways in the preservation of life, the protection of property and the prevention of crime, but after the arrival of the first piece of fire apparatus, the police shall not enter a burning building except for the purpose of saving life or at the request of the Commissioner of Public Safety for the performance of a police service.

3. It shall be the duty of a police officer who arrives at a fire to take his position in front of the building or as near as possible to the front of the burning building. Fire lines will be established for different fires and it is the duty of the police to keep everybody outside of the fire lines so that the firemen may not be hampered in their work.

ARTICLE VII

OPERATION OF VEHICLES

Section 1. DRIVE WITHIN MARKED LANES. When any roadway has been divided into lanes, a driver of a vehicle shall drive so as to be entirely within a single lane and shall not move from the lane in which he is driving until he has first ascertained if such movement can be made with safety.

Section 2. USE RIGHT LANE. Upon all roadways the driver of a vehicle shall drive in the lane nearest the right side of the roadway when said lane is available for travel except when overtaking another vehicle or when preparing a left turn.

Section 5. DRIVER TO GIVE WAY TO OVERTAKING VEHICLE. The driver of a vehicle when about to be overtaken and passed by another vehicle approaching from the rear shall give way to the right when practicable in favor of the overtaking vehicle, or suitable and audible signal being given by the driver of the overtaking vehicle, and shall not increase the speed of his vehicle until completely passed by the overtaking vehicle.

SECTION 8. SLOW VEHICLES TO STAY 200 FEET APART. Upon roadways less than twenty-seven (27) feet wide and upon which vehicular traffic is permitted to operate in both directions the driver of any slow moving vehicle when travelling outside of a business or residential district shall not follow another slow moving vehicle within two hundred feet, but this shall not be construed to prevent such slow moving vehicle from overtaking and passing another slow moving vehicle. This section shall not apply to funerals or other lawful processions.

Section 9. CARE IN STARTING, STOPPING, TURNING OR BACKING. The driver of any vehicle before starting, stopping, turning from a direct line or backing shall first see that such movement can be made in safety. If such movement cannot be made in safety or if it interferes unduly with the normal movement of other traffic, said driver shall wait for a more favorable opportunity to make such movement.

1. An intention to stop shall be indicated by extending the arm horizontally to the left of and beyond the side of the vehicle.

2. An intention to turn to the left shall be indicated by extending the arm horizontally to the left of and beyond the side of the vehicle, and by pointing to the left with the index finger.

(a) At Central Avenue and K Street.

SECTION 12. SOUND HORN WHEN NECESSARY. The driver of a vehicle shall give an audible warning with his horn or other suitable warning device whenever necessary to insure safe operation.

SECTION 13. OBEDIENCE TO TRAFFIC CONTROL SIGNALS
Colors and arrow indications in traffic control signals shall have the commands ascribed to them in this section, and no other meanings, and every driver of a vehicle, railway car or other conveyance shall comply therewith, except when otherwise directed by an officer or by a lawful traffic regulating sign (other than a "stop" sign) signal or device.

In no case shall a driver enter or proceed through an intersection without due regard to the safety of other persons within the intersection regardless of what indications may be given by traffic control signals.

(c) YELLOW: While the yellow lens is illuminated, waiting drivers shall not proceed and any driver approaching the intersection or a marked stop line, shall stop at such point unless so close to the intersection that a stop cannot be made in safety, provided, however, that if a green arrow is illuminated at the same time, drivers may enter the intersection to make the movement permitted by such arrow.

(d) RED: While the red lens is illuminated, drivers facing the signal shall stop outside of the intersection, or at such point as may be clearly marked by a sign or line, provided, however, that if a green arrow is illuminated at the same time, drivers may enter the intersection to make the movement permitted by such arrow.

(e) RED & YELLOW: While the red and yellow lenses are illuminated together, drivers shall not enter the intersection and during such time the intersection shall be reserved for the exclusive use of pedestrians.

(f) FLASHING RED: A flashing red lens shall indicate those intersections at which a driver is required by law to stop before entering.

(g) FLASHING YELLOW: A flashing yellow lens shall indicate the presence of a hazard and drivers may proceed only with caution.
